Subject: Precious Water and Talking Rock Golf Course

I live in Inscription Canyon and understand that Talking Rock Golf Course is the only golf course in the state of Arizona that uses fresh water for their golf course. And, I also understand that they pay less for this water than I do for household water. This is wrong!

Water is precious. Many wells in this area are drying up. How in the world can you allow a golf course to use fresh water for a golf course?

I would appreciate if you would have the courage and take the necessary steps to stop this inappropriate use of fresh water. People in Inscription Canyon are up in arms about this. Apparently, no one did anything to stop this when it started years ago, but with more recent attention to the drought conditions, utility cost increases and conservation issues, they have become more verbal.

Please stop this injustice.
